Denys Davydenko

I'm Denys Davydenko and I am studying computer science and CU Boulder. I have previously taken classes up to data structures and have made games in Unity, learning C++, Java and C#.

I like to ski, something I hope to get a lot of here in Colorado, as well as doing all the other Colorado stuff, hiking, mountain biking and more.

I want to learn more about AI and the math behind it to actually understand the models and continue to do useful things with them like use it to detect AI in media.
